EUCCHARISTIC REVIVAL BULLETIN INFORMATION

WEEK 16

Our Supreme Chaplain Archbishop William E. Lori clearly summed up our Brotherhoods' dedication to the Blessed Sacrament: "In the Eucharist, we truly receive the One who loves us like no other ... we make living contact with Jesus, the gift of the Father, the gift of love and the gift of peace."

The Knights of Shrine of St. Jude's Council invites our fellow parishioners to join with us in proclaiming our devotion to Our Lord Jesus Christ in the Blessed Sacrament during this time of National Eucharistic Revival in the United States. As a parish, we must shout our celebration of the Eucharist as the REAL PRESENCE OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST in both reception of Holy Communion by the faithful at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass and in the Tabernacle on our church's altar at all times.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

This week I read this Op-Ed article from the New York Times by David French titled:

"A Terrible Phone Call and What Came Next", that I thought might be a helpful about being a friend, someone to share times of joy and also sorrow with one another, and expressing empathy.

"Early on the morning of Friday, Nov, 10, my phone rang with terrible news: My wife, Nancy, has a highly aggressive form of breast cancer.

Even as I type these words, I know there are countless readers who know the exact sensation. Either they've received a similar diagnosis or they love someone who has. And each of these readers knows the surreal feeling of having your life change instantly. Nancy and I lived in one reality before the phone call and another reality afterward.

It's like the difference between peace and war. In peacetime, you can dream and plan. True joy may be elusive, but it seems like an attainable goal. In wartime, you dig deep. You fight. And the goal is not joy but survival itself. Peace has its many challenges, but war is emotionally shattering. The fight is so very hard and can feel unending.

Imagine how much harder that fight, any fight, would be if you fought it alone. But ever since the deep darkness of that November phone call, Nancy and I have experienced countless bursts of light shining through, each one coming through the love and care from other people.

And with each act of kindness and expression of concern – including from colleagues here at the Times, who've demonstrated remarkable care and compassion – the darkness recedes further. Nothing is easy, and the fear is still real. But there is no comparison between the state of our hearts now and their state when we first received Nancy's grim news.

The reason for our revival is rooted in a profound truth elegantly captured by an old Swedish proverb: "Shared joy is double joy. Shared sorrow is half sorrow." I've heard that proverb many times. It was the refrain of a men's prayer group that I belonged to for many years. But I'd never felt its truth so powerfully until November, when our sorrow was so deep and the love of our friends so profound.

If you follow my writing, you know that I'm deeply concerned with the subject of friendship. As Surgeon General Vivek Murthy wrote last April, we are a "lonely nation." Men and women have fewer friendships.

An alarming percentage of Americans report having no close friends at all. There is no national five-point plan for friendship. It's not a problem susceptible to political or cultural fixes from top down. Instead, it's a problem that demands individual action motivated by individual conviction, perhaps led by the very people who know what it means to feel the double joy and half sorrow that sharing makes possible. Those of us who have been blessed in this way must bless others in return. The key word in the Swedish proverb is "shared." You don't just tell me the reason for your sorrow or joy, and I just don't listen. The word "shared" implies participation. When you share a meal, you are not merely one of two people eating. You are together. And so it should be with sorrow and joy. In the Letter to the Romans, St. Paul tells believers to "Rejoice with those who rejoice; weep with those who weep."

At their heart, both the Swedish proverb and St. Paul's verse are concretely describing what it means to be empathetic. As Brene Brown has memorably explained: "Empathy is a choice, and it's a vulnerable choice. Because in order to connect with you, I have to connect with something in myself that knows that feeling."

In other words, if you're really sharing sorrow, you're feeling it as well, and as you feel what your friend feels, you lighten your friend's load. Brown continues: "If I share something with you that's very difficult, I'd rather you say, 'I don't even know what to say right now. I'm just so glad you told me.' Because the truth is, rarely can a response make something better. What makes something better is connection."

Those of us who've experienced that connection and love should feel an urgent necessity to extend it to others.

Blessings,
Fr. Ryan

March for Life 2024

What You Can Do Locally

Although Roe v. Wade has been overturned, the battle to protect all human life continues, especially at the state level. Even if you are not heading to Washington, D.C. this year for the annual March for Life, there are many ways you can help to build a culture of life where it matters most—in our own communities.

- Organize or attend a Holy Hour, a group Rosary, or a special Mass for Life
- Be a public Witness (e.g. pray at an abortion facility, host a baby shower)
- Visit your elected Representatives (e.g. to urge support for making the Hyde Amendment permanent, rescinding FDA approval of RU-486, and protecting consciences of faithful citizens)
- Participate in “Marching 101” on January 18th (a Pro-life advocacy workshop with virtual and in-person registration)

La Iglesia Necesitada

El 28 de Enero del 2024, se hará una colecta a favor de "La Iglesia Necesitada". El dinero colectado será compartido entre las tres áreas de mundo donde hay necesidades particulares:

La Iglesia en Europa Central y Oriental, donde aún hay grandes necesidades.

Esta colecta ayuda a la Iglesia en más de 25 países que luchan para recuperarse del antiguo régimen comunista. Así mismo, ayuda a las comunidades en toda la región que han sido afectadas por la guerra en Ucrania. Estos fondos financian el cuidado pastoral, la catequesis, las renovaciones y la formación de seminaristas. El apoyo de ustedes restaura la Iglesia y construye el futuro en esa región.

La Iglesia en América Latina Para muchos en América Latina y el Caribe, una creciente cultura secular, unos terrenos rurales difíciles y una escasez de ministros, son obstáculos para practicar la fe. Su apoyo a la colecta proporciona capacitación para el liderazgo laico, la catequesis, la formación para sacerdotes y religiosos y otros programas para compartir nuestra fe católica con aquellos que anhelan escuchar la Buena Nueva de Cristo.

La Iglesia en África – El Fondo de Solidaridad de la Iglesia en Africa financia proyectos pastorales para incrementar la capacidad de la Iglesia y fomentar una paz y reconciliación duraderas en un continente que a menudo está marcado por divisiones y tensiones. Aunque la Iglesia en África está creciendo, muchos aún carecen de acceso a los recursos básicos y a un cuidado pastoral. Gracias por su generosidad.
